Letting the Court Die
The World's Copper
Sewed in a Bear Skin
Earth's Strange Motions

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

ACCORDING TO Mussolini, the Americans are preparing feverishly for war, therefore he cannot allow disarmament, although he would gladly turn the money and turn the energies and efforts to peace. The greatest ruler in Europe will be Mussolini, excepting some Balkan countries. They say that war is the only occupation for a gentleman."

The country, if it would attend to business, keep its defenses in order and keep them MUSSOLINI, could save half what it is now spending in preparation now, and be better armed.

Likewise it is a pleasure to learn that the World court has been reappointed for another year. Perhaps that is "letting the old cat die out."

THE GOVERNMENT, afraid of monopolies, might learn something from the British. They showed us recently what could be done with rubber, making Americans pay outrageously high prices, enough to meet the British debt installments.

And now two great copper companies in Rhodesia combine, making one company of the B'wana M'kubwa and the N'changa mines.

Sir Auckland Geddes tells of the great advantages to be had from a well-planned trust, and was sorry that all companies could not have been put into it.

The British hope to get up a company that will dominate the world. Long ago this column called attention to the effect what copper production in Africa might have on values here.

If the United States would let American copper men, Ryan, Jackling and others that understand the industry, combine to protect the United States interests regardless of an antiquated Sherman law, the British would not dominate the copper world so easily.

ANOTHER more cheerful day in Wall street. Perhaps the bottom of the financial world is not going to fall out, after all. The better feeling comes a little late for many, unfortunately. They must comfort themselves with the old German saying:

Wer gelt hat kann spekuliren.
Wer keins hat kann nichts verlieren. "Who has money can speculate. Who has none can lose nothing."

EVERYTHING is comparative, even sorrow. The head of a great bank in New York tells of a client "with the saddest face I have ever seen in my life."

One year ago this client was worth at least sixty millions of dollars. And today his fortune is reduced to not more than twenty million dollars. "And you can't imagine," said the banker, "how that man suffers."

Ivan the Terrible, Czar of Russia, to subdue those that opposed him invented queer punishments.

On one occasion he had a bishop sewed up in a bear skin, and the bishop, in his bear skin, thrown to a pack of half-starved dogs.

The bishop suffered horribly, of course, but only for a few minutes.

His total suffering amounted to far less than the sufferings of some that have seen their fortunes and the results of their life work suddenly taken from them, bit by bit, during the past year.

FRANK HOLMES, PUBLISHER AT NEVADA, DIES

Dean of Wyandot County Newspaper Men Widely Known in Ohio.

FUNERAL TO BE SUNDAY

Edited Paper Nearly Half Century; Passes Away at Magnetic Springs.

Special To The Star

NEVADA, O., Dec. 19—Frank Holmes, 68, dean of Wyandot county newspaper men and for nearly a half century editor and publisher of the Nevada News, weekly here, died at Magnetic Springs this morning.

Holmes had been in failing health for several years. He entered the sanatorium at Magnetic Springs a year ago suffering from dropsy. Although confined in the hospital, he continued to edit his paper.

He purchased the local paper more than 40 years ago, moving here from Upper Sandusky where he was born Aug. 4, 1862. He was graduated from the public schools at Upper Sandusky.

He gained considerable national prominence three years ago in his fight against the corn borer campaign then being waged by the federal government. He was instrumental in blocking in congress a $10,000,000 appropriation for the work. He appeared before the congressional committee holding hearings on the corn borer campaign.

During the last year he had been active in a campaign against tuberculin testing of cattle. He was widely known throughout Ohio.

Funeral services will be held in the home here Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Burial will be made in the Nevada cemetery. The body may be viewed at the home Saturday from 2 to 4 p. m. and 8 to 10 p. m.

He is survived by the widow, two sons, Oscar of Cleveland and William of Nevada; two sisters, Mrs. Rose Houck of Wayne, N. Y., and Miss Hattie Holmes of Nevada.

PICKETS REMOVED FROM OHIO THEATER

Union Withdraws Poster Bearers During Run of Passion Play Here.

Pickets were removed from the vicinity of the Ohio theater last night by local labor union officials on request of acting Police Chief Ira Shrock.

The pickets left their posts about 8 p. m. and will not appear at any time during the presentation of "The Passion Play" under auspices of the King's Daughters. Union officials willingly consented to remove the men when the request was made, according to Shrock.

E. G. Obenour, president of the projectionists union, said today picketing will probably be resumed after the final presentation of the play.

The theater has been picketed for some time, following a controversy between the local unions and J. J. Huebner, manager of the theater over the employment of only one projectionist, a non-union man, in the booth of the theater.

FEAR NINE DROWNED AS LAUNCH CAPSIZES

Rescue Efforts Fail as Californians Drift Toward Open Sea.

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19—Caught in a strong outgoing tide, at least six persons, and possibly nine, were believed to have drowned when their launch capsized at the mouth of Tomales bay, 30 miles north of here yesterday.

Ornburn and Grant Gray, brothers, who waged a hard fight to rescue the party, said the launch apparently had become disabled and its occupants frightened as the craft drifted toward the open sea.

The Grays went to the rescue in a small boat with an outboard motor. They succeeded in getting a line to the launch but said one of the women on the larger craft, instead of making it fast, jumped overboard. They hauled her in with the line.

A second woman then was hauled toward the little boat but it capsized as she attempted to climb aboard. At the same time a huge wave struck the launch and overturned it.

The Grays said they had counted five women and one man struggling in the water after both boats had upset.

Relatives reported nine members of two families missing from the little fishing village of Marshal, not far from where the boats capsized.

WELFARE COMMISSARY IN Y. M. C. A. IS FACTORY, STORE ALL IN ONE

Above are two views of the Family Welfare Society commissary workshops in the Y. M. C. A. Here clothing and shoes are reclaimed and fitted for distribution among the needy of the city. In the top photograph, workmen are repairing shoes. The lower view shows the mended clothing, sorted and listed as to sizes. The workmen in the upper picture are unemployed and are earning clothing for their families by repairing shoes.

Teachers and Women's Groups Contribute $367 To Aid Cause Here.

Twenty-one hundred articles of clothing, 16 pieces of furniture, and 26 pieces of bedding went out to needy Marion families in the two-week period ending Dec. 13 from the Family Welfare society commissary, reports read at a meeting of the Community Fund general committee last night showed.

A good share of the clothing went to boys and girls who had insufficient clothing to protect them from winter temperatures. The report shows that 778 pieces of boys' clothing and 527 pieces of girls' clothing were distributed from the commissary at the Y. M. C. A. in the two weeks, on orders obtained from the Family Welfare society and C. M. Tobin, city relief commissioner.

Shoes, stockings, underwear, shirts and dresses proved to be the most needed articles of clothing. Coats, suits and overcoats were also needed in numbers.

Investigating appeals for bedding where, as in one case, a family of eight was sleeping in two beds, with scarcely any bed clothing, investigators issued orders on the Delaware County Employes To Get 15 Per Cent Reduction.

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., Dec. 19—A 15 per cent reduction in the salaries of all Delaware county employes, effective Jan. 1, has been announced by the county commissioners as the result of the falling off in revenues. A tax deliquency of $18,000 is anticipated.

The salaries of elected officials will be reduced automatically by a decrease in population by the last census.

Lindbergh Puts Out Fire in Airplane

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 19—Charles A. Lindbergh's plane caught fire at Logan field today as he was about to leave for New York with Mrs. Lindbergh, but he extinguished the flames unaided.

Mrs. Lindbergh was in the cockpit as oil or gasoline on an exhaust pipe caught fire, apparently from back fire. Col. Lindbergh seized a hand fire extinguisher and put out the flames almost immediately.

PASSION PLAY TELLS IMPRESSIVE STORY

German Players Portray Christ's Last Seven Days on Earth in Ohio Theater.

A beautiful and impressive drama telling the most tragic story of all history, the story of Christ's last seven days on earth, was presented by the Freiburg Passion Players of Baden, Germany, last night at the Ohio theater.

Beautiful costuming, lighting and scenery, even though the stage was small, contributed greatly to the beauty of this simple story of the Man who died for His people.

The German actors have put everything into this drama which has been produced by their ancestors for hundreds of years, and the Fassnacht family, in whose hands have lain the principal characters for generations, reflect in their acting the emotions which they have undergone to perfect the portrayal of their roles.

This play is built upon the foundations of Christianity. The story is beautifully and simply told in English.

George Fassnacht Jr., the Christus give a dignity of the Bible Christ to his role that is touching in its sincerity. Mary, the Mother of Jesus, portrayed by Augusta Fassnacht, combines the qualities of motherhood down through the centuries with the devout religion that must have been the mother's of the Nazarene. George Fassnacht Sr., the Judas of the production, has taken from his role the hatred always felt for

5 YOUTHS KILLED IN MACHINE CRASH

One from Ohio Among Victims of Wreck at Bridge in Pennsylvania.

By The Associated Press

LEWISBURG, Pa., Dec. 19—Five youths were killed early today when their automobile crashed into the abutment of a concrete bridge across the Susquehanna river, which connects Lewisburg with the Susquehanna trail.

The dead:

Wheeler Watson, a son of Federal Judge Albert L. Watson of Scranton; Hiram Gair and his brother, Wilbur of Watsontown; Robert Wilson of Watsontown and William Rohn, salesman of Canton, O.

A sixth man, Paul Aunkst of Watsontown suffered possible internal injuries.

The accident occurred as Watson's touring car was crowded off the road by another automobile traveling in the same direction. After striking the abutment the car careened across the road, struck the other side of the tunnel and turned over several times.

The impact was so great that the automobile's motor was driven back into the body of the automobile.

Over for Year

(Will Rogers Special)

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 19—Well the World Court blowed up till next December anyhow. Papers are calling it a defeat for Mr. Hoover. Say I bet you he is tickled to death. Its one of those things he was under obligations to propose, and to get it off his hands this easy, why he is just laughing up his sleeve for the first time in months.

If there is one thing that it would be laughable for this country to try and show the rest of the world how to do, it would be to run a court.

Of all the cockeyed things we got in this country at the present time, its some of our judges, and courts, and justice. We got more bandits out on bond than we got people for 'em to rob.

Report 90 Lose Lives in Volcanic Eruption in Java.

By The Associated Press

BATAVIA, Java, Dec. 19—Merapi, the great volcano which has been dormant for 80 years, burst into violent eruption and poured a river of white hot lava upon the little villages at its foot yesterday. Today as the eruption continued, it was feared that 90 natives had lost their lives.

For the past two weeks there has been a menacing rumble in the bowels of the mountain but the sudden awakening took the vicinity by surprise. Many villages in the region have been evacuated.

TO NAME CHIEF OF POLICE HERE ABOUT JAN. 1

Civil Service Commission Expects To Have Papers by End of December.

90-DAY PROBATION PERIOD

Seventeen Appear for Examination for Post as Head of City Department.

Appointment of a police chief for Marion is likely to take place on or about Jan. 1 it appeared today following a civil service examination in the Central Junior high school last night when 17 applicants for the position were given the test.

The appointment will be made for a 90-day probationary period in which the new chief will be allowed to give a sample of his work. At the end of that time, the appointment will be made permanent, providing his efforts are satisfactory.

To Certify Three

Grading of papers and compiling of grades will probably be completed by the end of December by the commission, barring unforeseen contingencies. Names of the three candidates having highest grades will be certified to Safety Director T. E. Sonnanstine for the probationary appointment immediately after the grades have been compiled.

James A. Bent of 530 East Fairing street was the only applicant for the position who failed to appear for the examination last night.

Four phases of ability and fitness will be used to determine grades of the applicants, according to officials of the commission. Training and experience will count 25 per cent of the total grade, physical fitness as determined by a medical examination will determine another 25 per cent. Personal fitness as determined by an oral examination given each

MAJ. SHEPARD TRIAL APPROACHES END

Attorneys in Poison Death Case Present Arguments Today.

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Dec. 19—The trial of Maj. Charles A. Shepard on the charge of murdering his wife by administering poison approached an end today with attorneys prepared to begin their arguments. A few rebuttal witnesses remained to be examined when court opened today.

Rebuttal witnesses yesterday testified that Mrs. Shepard during her fatal illness had declared that she had been poisoned. However the testimony of Miss Clara Brown, Topeka nurse who attended Mrs. Shepard, that her patient directly accused Major Shepard of administering the poison was ruled out by Federal Judge Richard J. Hopkins.

Testimony of rebuttal witnesses dealt with Mrs. Shepard and her last illness with no further evidence relative to the government's allegation that the army officer poisoned his wife to be free to wed Miss Grace Brandon, young San Antonio, Tex., stenographer.

CHICAGO JURIST HITS JUDGE CLARK RULING

Terms Decision as "Without Merit" in First Written Opinion.

By International News Service

CHICAGO, Dec. 19—Attacks upon the validity of the eighteenth amendment such as Federal Judge William Clark of New Jersey advanced in his recent ruling were characterized as "without merit" in an opinion drafted today by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley.

In the first written opinion disagreeing with the decision of the eastern jurist Judge Lindley overruled a motion to quash an indictment charging George Morris of Streator with the operation of a still.

Judge Lindley's opinion was drafted today at the request of the United State's attorney's office here.

Veteran Freight Agent Here With Road 50 Years

A HALF-CENTURY of service for the Hocking Valley railroad, now the Chesapeake & Ohio, will be completed Saturday by Cortez E. Sargent of 491 East Center street, local freight agent of the road.

Sargent, who is 68 and who will be 69 on Dec. 29, entered the employ of the Hocking Valley on Dec. 20, 1880, as night telegraph operator. His office was in the old Hocking Valley passenger station located at that time between the present Union depot and Center street but which has since been moved south of Center street to become the present freight house where Sargent has his office.

The freight agent has the longest service record of any Hocking Valley employe in Marion and during his entire service has missed only 10 days' pay. These 10 days were before he was made agent 32 years ago.

During practically all of the 50 years he has been with the road, Sargent has been stationed in Marion. He served for a short time as day operator and clerk at Delaware and for about eight years was agent at Fostoria. He returned here Oct. 1, 1898, as passenger and freight station agent. When the union passenger station was

PLANES JOIN BANDIT HUNT

Four Desperadoes Believed To Be Trapped in Alabama Swamp.

PLANES USE SMOKE BOMBS

Posse of More Than 300 Circles Swamp; Bloodhounds Shot Down.

By The Associated Press

SAFFORD, Ala., Dec. 19—Two airplanes joined the search today for four bank bandits believed hiding in Bogue Chitto swamp, three miles from here.

The planes took off at dawn and began circling over a stretch of swamp lands. Meanwhile the ground forces of more than 300 were reinforced with a new pack of bloodhounds.

Planes Equipped for Action

The planes were equipped with machine guns and smoke bombs. The latter were dropped to guide the forces surrounding the swamp in event the bandits should be spotted from the air.

The dogs were brought in the planes from Mississippi to replace those shot down by the bandits when they were tracked to their places of hiding.

The bandits, one white man and three Negroes, heavily armed, were reported by the officials of the Marion Junction State bank to have obtained approximately $4,000 in a robbery which was executed so rapidly yesterday that the quartet had escaped before a customer who saw them enter the bank could summon aid.

Beat Off Pursuers

After officers exchanged shots with the bandits as they fled across an open field, but the desperadoes brought a machine gun and high powered rifle into play, beating off their pursuers.

Testimony Starts in Hamilton Murder Trial

By The Associated Press

BELLEFONTAINE, O., Dec. 19—Presentation of testimony was scheduled to start today in the first degree murder trial of Arthur Hamilton, alleged slayer of Mrs. Catherine Bell, 87, minister's widow.

A jury of 12 men was chosen late yesterday after nearly two days of examination of veniremen and was taken to the lonely spot near here where the woman's body was found Nov. 5. Hamilton, who is alleged to have kidnapped the woman from her home, has pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity. Police said he confessed the slaying.

The house bill to authorize an additional appropriation of $150,000,000 for the farm board was reported to the senate today but Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, objected to immediate consideration.

Asks Investigation

Senate investigation of charges by Ralph S. Kelley, former field agent of the general land office, of irregularities in the lease of oil shale lands was proposed in a resolution offered today by Senator Walsh, Democrat, of Montana.

Walsh said he was expressing no conviction about the charges, but thought they should be the subject "at least of a preliminary inquiry."

He asked to have the resolution referred to the senate lands committee, which he said could prosecute the "necessary preliminary inquiry."

Kelley was dismissed by Secretary Wilbur after the department of justice had held his charges were untrue.

Bills Total $311,000,000

Congress was ready to play Santa Claus to the nation today with relief bills totaling $311,000,000. The Christmas offering up for final approval included: $116,000,000 for new jobs through immediate public improvements; $150,000,000 for the farm board to continue its program of crop price stabilization; $40,000,000 for loans to farmers in the drouth areas for purchase of seed and fertilizer in planting next year's crops.

The employment appropriation and the drouth relief measure still required adjustment of controversy which resulted from opposition in

COUNTY WARDS TO SEE MOVIE SATURDAY

Children from Home To Be Taken to Theater Party by Rotarians.

Children of the Maron County Children's home and the school for crippled children will be guests at the children's theater party Saturday morning at the Palace and Marion theaters. Members of the Rotary club have arranged transportation for the children of the school and the children from the home will be brought to Marion in the school bus it is planned.

The shows, which are sponsored by the Delphian club, is a part of the club's activities in providing cheer for unfortunate families of the city. Admission to either theater is provided by the contribution of fruit or canned fruits and vegetables.

City Sewer Correction Program Shows Marked Progress in Correcting Evils

Service Director Outlines Work Done at Start of Five-Year Program.

As a result of work accomplished during the first few months of a five-year sewer correction program for the city, the Scioto river below Marion is purer and clearer than it has been in years and a number of unsatisfactory sewer conditions have been remedied, according to D. J. Harlow, city service director.

The sewer system of Marion and the sewage disposal plant are controlled and operated by the city service department. All correctional work and improvements completed this year have been done entirely by regular employes of the department, according to Director Harlow. The five-year program, under which the work is being done, was approved early this year by city council.

Divert Storm Water

To offset a marked decrease in the flow of water through the sewage disposal plant, which resulted in poor dilution of sewage, 550,000 gallons of water daily have been diverted through the sanitary sewer systems from storm water lines, according to Director Harlow, summarizing the sewer correction work done this year. This results in better dilution and easier treatment of sewage.

An unsatisfactory condition caused by the frequent crossing of storm water and sanitary sewer lines, resulting in much sewage getting into the Scioto river untreated through storm water outlets, has been partially corrected.

Dozens of Marionites have had sewer problems solved by the correction work. Work is being done on a five-year program, which eliminates the most offensive problems each year, and calls for supervised inspection of all future sewer work.

The stream of the Scioto is 50 per cent purer and 100 per cent cleaner in appearance than it was a few months ago before several important corrections were made, according to Floyd G. Browne, superintendent of the sewage disposal plant.

For years the Scioto was polluted from the Silver street and Columbia street storm water sewers. With the cross-tangle of storm water and sanitary sewers in the city straightened out, as it will be when the five-year program is carried to completion, nothing but storm water will empty into the river from storm water outlets.

Join Sewers

To divert the flow of the Columbia street storm water sewer through the sewage disposal plant to aid in dilution in dry seasons, the Columbia street line and the Uncapher avenue sanitary sewer line were joined at Uncapher avenue. The amount of water diverted can be controlled by a hand-operated valve at the connection. Two advantages result. The sewage going through the treatment plant has better dilution as a result of the increased flow of water from the storm water sewer. Also the discharge from the Columbia street sewer, which was very unsatisfactory because it furnished a drain for many sanitary sewer connections, is now diverted through the treatment plant and purified before released into the Scioto.

This improvement was completed in June.

For years, residents of Pleasant street and South Union street countenanced strong odors and flooded cellars as the result of an unsatisfactory sewer condition. When the service department investigated the trouble, it was discovered that a six-inch line off Union street and a six-inch line off Pleasant street were joined at the intersection of the two streets, and that only a six-inch line connected this intersection with a sewer outlet into the Columbia street sewer. An entirely new line, larger than the abandoned one, was built from the intersection south to Columbia street, and the sewers on both streets were flushed. The trouble has disappeared, according to Harlow.

Another perplexing problem was found at the intersection of Superior, Prospect and Duluth streets. Three six and eight-inch sanitary lines off these three streets joined at a manhole, with but one eight-inch line to carry the flow from the three to a larger sewer outlet. In the same manhole, however, nearly two feet above the level of the other three lines, was a 15-inch outlet. This outlet, running down Duluth street, prevented the manhole overflowing, but did not drain away water from the manhole until it reached a depth of two feet.

Sanitary Lines Tapped into Storm Pipes Present Biggest Problem.

When water was standing in the manhole, residents along the three streets found water backing up in the sewers, flooding their cellars.

Lower Outlet

By lowering the line of the Duluth street sewer to a level with the other lines, the condition was remedied, and the residents of that section were given a proper sewer outlet.

Congress street sewer, nearly half a mile long, never had a manhole on it until the service department installed four this year. This makes possible the cleaning of the line without street excavations.

Water stood on Mt. Vernon avenue for days after a heavy rain until the service department literally rebored four blocks of 12-inch storm water pipe along the street. The tile was filled with earth and roots, and had been sealed for years. The street is now properly drained.

The same condition existed on South Main street from Columbia street south three blocks. It also was remedied.

Other improvements were made on Franklin street, Elaine avenue, Edgewood drive, Cherry street, Hane avenue, Congress street, Avondale avenue, Olney avenue, Church street, Washington avenue, Fies avenue and George street.

The work included remedying several emergency conditions which required immediate attention.

If finances permit the carrying out of the five-year progam, the city sewer system will be in better condition than ever before. Some correction work was imperative, as cities below Marion, which rely on river water for city use, demand that the stream of the river be kept reasonably clean.

All the sewer connection work done this year has been done within the service department. By confining the work to the department instead of letting it out in various small contracts, the city has been saved several hundred dollars, officials estimate.

CONGRESS STRIVING FOR AGREEMENT

Both Branches Hope To Wind Up Federal Relief Program Today.

both senate and house to President Hoover's recommendations, but enactment of both in time for a Christmas recess to begin tomorrow was predicted confidently

Agree on Drouth Amount

Conferees of the senate and house agreed last night on the compromise $45,000,000 drouth relief bill which is without direct provison for food loans except in cases of extreme emergency.

The house, which yesterday supported the administration's wishes to cut the senate's $60,000,000 drouth bill to $30,000,000, had the compromise before it at the opening of today's session.

The $116,000,000 employment appropriation was again in conference for adjustment of the few remaining differences. The withdrawal by the senate of a Democratic - Republican Independent coalition demand for scrapping the provision giving the President the right to reallocate the funds, cleared the way for an agreement.

The $150,000,000 additional appropriation for the farm board was before the senate at the opening of business. It bore approval of the house and of the senate appropriations committee. Chairman Legge of the farm board asked for the sum to meet immediate demands. This appropriation gives the board $400,000,000 of the $500,000,000 revolving fund authorized by congress.

All that glitters can't be measured by the golden rule.

One does what he wants to do and if he sticks to it, it is called ambition.

Clothing Needed for Boys and Girls

UNLESS someone has a good memory and remembers where there is some warm clothing there are just any number of boys and girls 15 and 16 years of age and under who are going to be really cold on Christmas Day and throughout the holidays, to say nothing of the remainder of the winter.

Despite the fact that folks of Marion and the vicinity for the splendid spirit of giving is no longer a city project, have been more than generous, there are boys and girls of those ages who need warm clothing, underwear, shoes and coats

THEN there is someone else who isn't getting quite the right sort of a break, and it begins to look at headquarters of the Commissary department at the Y. M. C. A building that the old wheeze about "nobody loving a fat man" is not so much of a joke after all. It's only reasonable to believe that fat men's clothing wears out just the same as others and in these days the great big man gets it just like his less weighty brothers. The few calls for clothing for very large men which have been received at headquarters so far have not been cared for owing to the fact that the city's pickup men very likely feel that their size is not in demand.

STOVES are another commodity much in demand these days, particularly cooking stoves, which in many cases answer the purpose of cooking and heating the homes. While several have been donated so far the winter cold is increasing the number.

IT isn't such a bad world after all and times of extreme need only proves it. When the call for clothing, underwear, shoes stoves, cupboards, tables and other articles came several weeks ago from the Family Welfare society its members were hopeful of a hearty response of citizens of Marion. The weeks have proven that their hopes were not in vain and also that the call was a far reaching one, for the past week or 10 days have found contributions pouring in from Prospect, Caledonia, La Rue, and the rural districts. That these contributions are needed is easily proven by the fact that they are no sooner placed on the tables in the temporary store, than they are found to be just the thing for some needy man, woman or child.

THE folks who apply at the commissary do not want charity, they want work; they do not want their clothing or other articles given to them and are more than willing to work for what they get. Sewing and patching the clothing already sent in provides work for many of the women who call, while the men are more than grateful to spend their time in helping to recondition the toys, to be distributed at Christmas time or helping about the building. One man, forced to apply a few days ago brought in a basket of apples which he hoped to exchange for clothing.

Woman in Buckley Case Due To Tell Story Today

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Dec. 19—A burlesque actress who admitted, according to police, that hers was the voice which called Gerald E. Buckley to his death, will tell the 22-man Wayne county grand jury her story today, if her condition permits.

The actress is Margaret Owen, 22, who has been in the psycopathic ward of Recieving hospital since Nov. 29, when she claimed she had been given poisoned whisky to prevent her from testifying in another murder case.

Police said yesterday she said she had been prompted by a man whose identity has not been revealed to call the radio political commentator by telephone and invite him to a party to celebrate the recall of Mayor Charles Bowles. She said Buckley was to meet her in the lobby of the La Salle hotel, where he was slain.

Negro Confesses To Slaying of Teacher

By The Associated Press

MARYVILLE, Mo., Dec. 19—Declaring by county authorities to have confessed slaying 18-year-old Velma Colter, rural school teacher, Raymond Gunn, 30, negro ex-convict, was held at St. Joseph, Mo., today, where he was rushed to avoid possible mob violence.

The negro was arrested yesterday while hunting. After hours of questioning the suspect, County Attorney Paul R. Jones announced Gunn had confessed. He was spirited away immediately.

The prosecutor said Gunn related how he had met the young teacher at the door of her school room and followed her within when she fled screaming. Jones quoted the ex-convict as saying Miss Colter fought viciously as he attempted to seize her.

Gunn then rushed at her with a club and beat her about the head, the prosecutor said.

Early Decision Expected on Prohibition Ruling

By International News Service

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 19—An early decision was expected today in the appeal to the United States supreme court of Judge William Clark's ruling that the eighteenth amendment was invalid.

Federal Attorney Phillip Forman, as he entered the notice of appeal here yesterday, announced he had been informed by Solicitor General Thomas D. Thatcher in Washington that an attempt would be made to advance the case on the high court calendar.

SEEK SPEED RECORD

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Dec. 19—William S. Brock and Lee Schoenhair, well-known pilots, have announced they will flip a coin to see which flies their "solution" in an attempt to establish a world record for land plane speed in an official National Aeronautical association test here during the holidays. Brock claimed he made 300 miles an hour in the plane yesterday.

commissary for 26 pieces of bedding material, the report shows

Other cases where families were living in houses practically unfurnished were given relief by the distribution of 16 pieces of furniture

The various articles distributed went to 298 different families in unfortunate circumstances. Those served included 169 men, 135 women, 114 girls, 132 boys, a total of 425 persons.

Twenty-seven men and four women worked a total of 77 days to earn their garments.

Fourteen men and 135 women interested in the success of the commissary volunteered their services and time to repair the used clothing donated to the commissary by Marionites.

Donations totalling $367.50 from women's organizations have been placed at the disposal of the commissary this week. The donations include a check for $217.50 from the Teachers association, $125 from the Federated Women's clubs, and $25 from Delta Theta Tau sorority.

The commissary welcomes donations from individuals or groups, and will use the money for a good purpose, its officials say.

Designer Dies in Jump; Plane Lands Safely

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19—The designer of a new army bombing plane lost confidence in his own craft last night as the motor sputtered. He jumped and died, while the plane was landed safely.

Stephen A. Forberger project engineer of the Fokker company, was killed, apparently because the parachute he carried had no time to break the fall before his body hit a tree.

the betrayer of the Christ, and has given it true remorse and the wretchedness that must have been that of the disciple who betrayed his Master.

For Judas and Portius Pilate, enacted by Mack Adlyn is felt sympathy, instead of the bitterness which Christmans have ever felt for the betrayor and condemnor of Jesus

There were scenes and tableaux which will not soon be forgotten by the first-night audience. Outstanding is the Last Supper, the last words spoken by Jesus, and the tableau, "He is risen". The Last Supper and Christ on the Cross, will stand out in many memories as the high points of emotion in the play.

John, the Beloved, and Caiaphas, High Priest of Isreal, were two of the best drawn characters of the Bible portrayed. Both had voices of deep and carrying timbre that added greatly to their interpretations.

The cast was augmented by Marion men and women for the people of Jerusalem. Pharisees, soldiers and legionaires.

A children's matinee will be given Friday and a matinee performance will be presented Saturday.

Whatsoever circle of King's Daughters, sponsorers of the Passion Play, will use its share in the proceeds to maintain its child's charity bed at City hospital

Parents, Teachers Hear Olney School Program

The seven grades of the Olney avenue school entertained the Olney avenue Parent-Teacher association yesterday afternoon at a meeting at the school. The school orchestra played three selections.

Numbers on the program were given as follows: first grade, "Santa's Shop"; second grade, "Merry Christmas"; third grade, "Christmas Stockings"; fourth grade, "Christmas in Many Lands"; fourth and fifth grades, "Bell Drill"; fifth, sixth and seventh grades, "December Play." Christmas carols were sung. The next meeting of the association will be Jan. 15.

Stores To Stay Open To Accommodate Shoppers

A number of Marion merchants including several large department stores, have extended their working hours to 6 p. m., for the accommodation of Christmas shoppers, beginning Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

There has been no concerted move to readjust business hours during the Christmas shopping season, according to Kenneth Fields, secretary of the Marion Credit Rating Co. and the Retail Merchants' bureau

The regular closing hour of most uptown stores is 5:30 p. m.

WE ARE GLAD to learn from Harvard that a "recent mysterious shaking of the earth's crust was a movement back and forth, rhythmical and regular, six seconds to each swing.

And while the earth's crust does move, it moves only two ten-thousandths of an inch in either direction, the motion continuing for many days.

We should be very grateful that little human microbes can be safe on this whirling globe, twenty-five thousand miles around, as heavy as though it were made of solid steel, with hot fire under our feet and absolute zero, more than 400 degrees below freezing all around us.

TELLS OF REMOVAL OF ROYAL REMAINS

American Flag Unknowingly Used To Safeguard Ashes of Czar and Family.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 19—An account of the shipment of the remains of Czar Nicholas II and his family out of Siberia under the protection of the American flag was published by the New York Times today.

Franklin Clarkin, former American consul at Harbin, Manchuria, was quoted as saying the ashes of the executed Romanoffs were unknowingly spirited through the Bolshevist lines and carried to Harbin from Omsk on an American consular train late in 1919.

In Janin Vault

Thence they were trans-shipped to Shanghai, sent to an Italian port on the Gulf of Trieste and they now rest near Paris in the family vault of General Janin, Fench commander of the Czech legionnaires in Siberia after the war. A new book by Janin tells of the ashes being in the vault.

Admiral Kolchak, commander of the White army, placed the remains in the care of Consul General Harris after his downfall at Omsk, says the Times, and Harris turned them over to Governor Horvath in Harbin without knowing the significance of his cargo.

With the White army in retreat, the American train took aboard American nurses and refugees and their gruesome freight, and headed east toward Vladivostok. In spite of guerilla warfare along the way, the party came through safely.

10 Biggest News Events of Year Listed by Kent Cooper, Associated Press Head of Andree Mystery First Place, Coste Flight Next.

...gest news events of ...% according to Kent ...al manager of the ...ress, were: Andree, ...llonte, Bobby Jones, ...Lindbergh baby, the ...entiary fire, the ...outh, Planet X, King ...burning of Dirigible ...

...the ten biggest news ...year is like selecting ...beautiful women or ...test paintings," says ...in an interview pub... by the American Mag... choice depends upon ...environment, and emo... Probably not one ...00 will agree with all ...ns I have made. I be...lieve, however, that in any competently selected list of ten, five of my choice would have to appear.

The world of sports is recognized only once in Mr. Cooper's list,—in the world-wide interest stirred by Bobby Jones's winning of the four major golf championships. The importance of women readers in the world of news is stressed by the inclusion of the Lindbergh baby in his "Big Ten." Science scores in the selection of Planet X, and indirectly also in the choice of the Andree story as the outstanding news event of the entire year.

Andree Story the Biggest

"In my opinion," says Mr. Cooper, "the solution of the Andree mystery, which the white silence of the Arctic yielded up after 33 years, was easily the biggest news event of 1930. In some respects I rank it as the greatest story of the kind the world has ever known.

"Almost equally alluring and satisfying was the second big news story on the list. Do you recall how many unsuccessful attempts were made before the first complete non-stop westward flight over the Atlantic was achieved? Six unsuccessful attempts in three years, and nine lives lost. Then came Coste and Bellonte.

"As to the third event on my list, Bobby Jones is the answer to the question 'What makes a big news story?' When someone does something that has never been done before, the event has the lure that grips us. Never before had any player won the four major golf championships of the world—the British Open and Amateur and the United States Open and Amateur. Bobby did it.

"The Civil disobedience revolt of Mahatma Gandhi in India is Number 4. A little crooked-legged man with small eyes, long nose, ears standing at right angles, and peculiar shaped skull, the idol of millions, a leader who is not domineering, and a saintly character, Gandhi preaches resistance without violence. For us in the West, that is a contradiction in terms. Amazing spectacle! Millions in revolt and signifying their determination to resist by fallen arms.

Noted Infant Arrives

"My fifth selection is the most interesting baby in the world,—whose father, through a single event, in the space of 36 hours, made himself the best known man in the world. Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr. is aviation's first baby. Never before has the birth of a child to a private citizen evoked such interest on the part of the whole American public.

"The next two big news events on the list are in the nature of disasters. Is it possible to conceive a more horrifying fate than that which befell convicts in the Columbus Penitentiary when a fire, started by some of their number as a means of escape, burned more than 300 of them to death in locked cells on the night of April 21? A fire so hot that it melted the very bars which restrained them!

"The great American drouth was by far the worst in our history, making victims of hundreds of thousands. In all, fifteen states were hit. It caused a loss of a billion dollars and threatened the existence of a million families.

"Next on my list is the announcement from Flagstaff, Ariz., on March 13, that a new planet had been discovered four billion miles from the sun. This was big news in the biggest sense. A great mystery of the beyond had been solved.

Carol Springs Surprise

"Next on my list is King Carol. Who would have thought that he could ever return to the Roumanian throne? That event came at a time when the popular movements of the world were all in the opposite direction—away from the monarchical.

"The destruction of England's dirigible R-101 was a news event of the most terribly enthralling and tragic sort. It exceeded in horror the worst previous airship disaster, that of the French dirigible, Dixmude, lost over the Mediterranean with 52 men."

Mr. Cooper explains that with the exception of the first two events on his list, he has not attempted to name these biggest news events in the order of their importance.

Epworth Circle No. 4 Meets at Kraner Home

The country home of Mrs. F. L. Kraner of Green Camp was the scene of the Christmas party of Circle No. 4, Ladies' Aid society of Epworth M. E. church yesterday afternoon. Forty were present.

Business of the circle was followed by the packing of a basket for a needy family. Miss Lena Schaber of Green Camp opened a program with a piano solo, "Silent Night." Mrs. J. A. Hiller read a Christmas poem and Mrs. L. F. Schiller and John Davis sang a duet. Mrs. Charles Seiter gave a reading. Singing of Christmas carols by the club closed the program.

A lighted tree, wreaths and candles added to the prettiness of the party. The members exchanged Christmas gifts in a social hour in which lunch was served.

The circle will meet Jan. 15.

SOCIETY MEETS

Prospect M. E. Mission Group Has Christmas Program

Mrs. Nettie Hecker, Mrs. Lena Mccay, Mrs. Burns Perfect and Mrs. David Bauer were hostesses to the Foreign Missionary society of the Prospect Street M. E. church last night at the Christmas thank-offering meeting held in the church parlors.

Mrs. LeRoy Diehl conducted the devotionals which had for a theme "Through Castle Doors to Adore the Christ Child." Mrs. George Bechtle presided for the program hour which was on the topic, "A Cloud of Witnesses." Members of the society presented an impressive demonstration of "The Returned Traveler and the Cloud of Witnesses." Mrs. Carl W. Patow sang, "In the Secret of His Presence," accompanied at the piano by Miss Minnie Wanner and Mrs. Caroline Shambaugh gave a reading, "The Missionary's Multiplier." Eight dollars was netted in the thank-offering service which was conducted after the program and the gifts placed at the foot of a illuminated Christmas tree. During the social hour refreshments were enjoyed following the program.

DENIES GUILT

Police Believe Columbus Man Not in Holdup Here.

Stanley Sharits, 26, of Columbus, whose confessions have cleared up a number of robberies, has denied any knowledge of the holdup of the Western & Southern Life Insurance Co. according to acting Police Chief Ira Shrock, who investigated the case in Columbus yesterday.

After grilling Sharits, authorities are convinced that he had no knowledge of the local holdup in which an armed bandit took more than $80 from a stenographer in the local insurance office a week ago last Tuesday.

Committee Heads Named by Trinity Lily Guild

Committee chairman of Trinity Lily Guild of Trinity Baptist church were named at a meeting last night with Miss Marjorie May of 504 Wilson avenue. They are as follows:

"Wonderland of India" was the topic under discussion. Mrs. Ralph Epley was in charge of a program. Girls initiated into the guild were Misses Norma Harrell, Doris Jane Powellson and Katherine Harvey. Miss Marguerite Leffler was a guest. Lunch was preceded by an exchange of Christmas gifts. The guild will meet in two weeks with Miss Lucille Brabson of Bellefontaine avenue.

Mrs. Emma Forrey Named Bible Class President

Officers of the Onward Bible class of Oakland Evangelical church were elected last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred White of Woodrow avenue.

Mrs. Emma Forrey was elected president; Mrs. White, vice president; Mrs. John Davis, secretary, with Mrs. Roy Hochem as assistant. Mrs. John Koenig was elected treasurer.

Refreshments were served by a committee including Mr. and Mrs. White, Mrs. Earl Klingel and Mrs. Grace Sheets. The next meeting will be held Jan. 15.

DISPLAY APARTMENTS

More than 300 men and women attended the public opening of the Lido apartments last night. Formerly the Cowan apartments, four of the suites and all corridors and the entrance lobby have been redecorated and are being shown to the public tonight for the last time.

AID SOCIETY MEETS

Christmas Party Features Meeting at Knapp Home.

Mrs. Frank M. Knapp, Mrs. Peavy, Mrs. W. O. Nippert, Mrs. J. F. Neidhart and Mrs. O. G. Briggs were hostesses to Circle No. 9 of Epworth M. E. Aid society yesterday afternoon when the members met for the annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Knapp on Franklin street.

Thirty-five members and guests enjoyed the program which opened with devotionals in charge of Mrs. Homer Waddell. Christmas thoughts were given in response to roll call. Christmas carols and readings were presented by Mrs. Homer Waddell assisted by Mrs. E. N. Hale, Mrs. F. C. Gegenheimer, Mrs. H. K. Henderson, Mrs. Walter Sheely, Mrs. C. E. Turney and Miss Peggy Hale.

Four sunshine baskets were arranged to be distributed to shutins and an exchange of Christmas toys was supervised by Jean Knapp as Santa Claus. The toys will be contributed to the needy children of the city.

The next meeting will be Jan. 23 with Mrs. J. E. Oliphant of South Vine street.

May Make Effort To Send Capone to Chair

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Judge John H. Lyle today was quoted as saying efforts would be made to send Alphonse Capone, gang chief, to the electric chair in connection with the slaying of two men.

"We will send Capone to the chair, if it is possible to do so," said Judge Lyle, who issued a vagrancy warrant for Capone several months ago. "He deserves to die. He has no right to live."

Club Enjoys White Elephant Party

Quest club members enjoyed a humorous exchange of "white elephants" gifts last night when Miss Anna Parks entertained at her home on Mt. Vernon avenue. The exchange was one of the highlights of the Christmas meeting.

Following a program, the club packed a large basket for charity and gave it to a committee including Miss Grace Colvin, Miss Ruth Edwards and Miss Margaret Seiter for distribution.

Miss Colvin opened the program with music, "Silent Night." A paper, "The Heavens," was read by Mrs. D. N. Bohyer and the story "The Star of Bethlehem," was read by Miss Mary Helphrey. The club joined in singing Christmas carols.

A small tree centered the table from which refreshments were served. "A surpressed desire" party will be enjoyed Jan. 8 when the club meets with Miss Lucile Foreman of East Church street.

PROGRAM IS GIVEN

Christmas Meeting Held by Epworth Missionary Society.

The December meeting of the Go Ye Therefore Missionary society of Epworth M. E. church was held last night at the church with Miss Elizabeth Pace and Miss Kathryn Gelbaugh as hostesses.

Following a short business meeting a Christmas program was enjoyed. Devotionals were led by Miss Helen Connelly. A duet, "There's a Song in the Air," was sung by Miss Beatrice Wilson and Miss Mary Henninger, followed by a poem, "His Birthday," read by Miss Ilva McCurdy. A reading, "The Yule Fire" was given by Miss Esther Williams after which a short play, "The Returned Traveler and the Cloud of Witnesses" was given by Misses Pauline Ruhl, Mary Henninger, Pauline Merriman, Althea Miller and Zelma Schwenfurth. The program closed with a short story, "Betty Joe Finds a Shield and Buckler," written by Miss Lucile Foreman.

A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served by the hostesses. A White elephant sale was planned for the next meeting which will be held Jan. 15, at the home of Miss Althea Miller at 42 S. Grand avenue, with Miss Esther Williams as assistant hostess.

CHRISTMAS SPECIAL
THE SUN-GLOW
MELODY CHEST

TOMORROW'S RADIO—

Now, this amazing screen grid radio perfected by Sun Glow, the finest small radio ever built—small in size—big in performance. Extremely selective, tremendously powerful, with a new standard of tone quality, and in a cabinet designed to serve as a musical companion beside your arm chair.

This new development makes possible a new excellence in radio performance with less tubes. Nothing has been overlooked that would make the Melody Chest the most outstanding radio achievement ever before offered to music lovers of the nation.

Most of all you'll marvel at its amazing value. Today—see and hear this "Little General" of the air—you'll discover why all eyes are now turned toward the Melody Chest.

SMALL IN SIZE AND PRICE ONLY

The Melody Chest invites comparison. Combined switch and volume control, "Loftin White direct coupled amplifier," no regeneration, results in selectivity, power and distance with tone quality beyond conception. Full vision illuminated scale in kilocycles, simplicity of operation, Electro dynamic reproducer, low power consumption, small weight and portability, fully guaranteed.

RADIO NEWS AND PROGRAMS

Germany Will Be Discussed at Luncheon Meet

THE internationally important topic "Germany," will be discussed by three outstanding speakers during the Foreign Policy Association Luncheon which will be broadcast over an NBC network Saturday from 1:45 to 3:30 p. m.

Speakers at the luncheon will be Dr Alfred E. Zimmern, director of the Geneva School of International Studies; Dr Reinhold Niebuhr, editor of "The World Tomorrow" and Dr Otto Nathan an official in the German Ministry of Economics. James G. McDonald will be chairman.

This is the second in a series of luncheons presented by the Foreign Policy Association which will be broadcast by NBC. The program will be heard in New York over WEAF.

Lillian Roth, screen and stage star will be heard during the broadcast of the RKO Theater of the Air over an NBC network Friday at 10:30 p. m.

Featuring the songs of their alma mater the famous glee club of Northwestern University will be the guest artists in the broadcast by Del Lampe's Eversharp Orchestra to be heard from the NBC Chicago Studios Friday at 9:30 p. m.

The series of weekly broadcasts which Parke H. Davis, noted gridiron historian and statistician, has been presenting over an NBC network will be concluded with the talk on Friday at 7:15 p. m.

With a musical comedy setting and a number of guest artists from the leading New York theatrical productions, another edition of "The Radio Follies" will be presented over the Columbia network

HELEN KANE

Here's Helen Kane, demure miss, whose skill at interpreting songs in a manner all her own has won her many admirers. She's guest artist on the Nestle program Friday at 8 p. m. over an NBC network.

Friday from 10 to 10:30 p. m.

Excerpts from the musical comedy "The Quaker Girl," by Lionel Monckton will highlight the program to be presented by the Quakers over an NBC network Friday at 10 p. m.

"Venetian Love Song," from Ethelbert Nevin's suite in four parts "A Day in Venice," will be played by the Black and Gold Room Orchestra under the direction of Ludwig Laurier over an NBC network Friday at 6:20 p. m.

A medley of old songs strikes a contrasting note on the Brownbilt Footlites program of modern dance tunes to be broadcast from the NBC Chicago Studios Friday at 7:45.

Ludwig Laurier and his Slumber Music ensemble will present a program of German classics over an NBC network Friday at 11 p. m.

Helen Kane Will Be Featured on Nestle Program

HELEN KANE, the "Boop boop a doop" lady who sings baby talk songs in a demure manner, is heard as guest artist with Nat Brusiloff's orchestra on the Nestle program Friday from 8 to 8:30 p. m. over a large NBC network.

Three popular numbers Miss Kane will sing are "My Man is on the Make," "Reading, Writing and Rhythm," and Dangerous Nan McGrew."

Born in New York as Helen Schroeder, Helen Kane was faced with the task of supporting an invalid mother and found that she could best do this as a theatrical performer and became a member of a "protege" act, "Stars of the Future." Incidentally, she was the only member of this troupe to fulfill the glowing terms of the billing.

Christmas selections will feature a classical program to be presented by Josef Koestner with a mixed chorus of 30 voices during the Armour Program to be broadcast from the NBC Chicago Studios Friday at 9:30 p. m.

Two time-tried favorites and a group of selections from "The Connecticut Yankee" are outstanding on the program entitled Natural Bridge Revue to be broadcast by NBC Friday at 8:45 p. m.

"The Clang of the Forge," by Paul Rodney, will be sung by Darrel Woodyard, bass, during the broadcast by the Cavaliers over stations associated with the NBC Friday, at 8 p. m.

CHICKEN-RAISING MRS. DOAK'S HOBBY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Raising chickens is the hobby of Mrs. William Doak, wife of the new secretary of labor.

High on a sunny, wind-swept hill where "Notre Nid," the Doak home perches, Mrs. Doak dons an old sweater, romps with the white collies and feeds 200 chickens.

Almost an invalid 10 years ago Mrs. Doak now ascribes her health to tending chickens, carrying rocks for steps and walls and enjoying her breezy hilltop.

The Doaks will not give up their country home even though he is in the cabinet. They like "Our Nest," English version of "Notre Nid," so named by Mrs. Doak.

The white house with its terraces and gardens is set in the midst of encircling hills. Surrounding cliffs are a mass of grey winter woodland.

"WE will probably take a suite at a hotel where we can entertain our friends this winter," says Mrs. Doak, "but every night we will come back out here. This is home."

And it is indeed a home.

One feels it in the welcoming tail-wag of Pete, the white poodle, picked up on the streets by Mrs. Doak; in the smile of the Negro who serves tea.

Richmond and Fannie, two other servants who have been with the family for years, have a little home of their own higher on the hill. A dog house is being built for the three large dogs, but Pete, the waif from the streets, settles down with satisfaction on his silken cushion in the home of a cabinet officer.

Polly the parrot is the only one to suffer from Doak's new job. She's afraid of photographers' flashlights and suspicious of every box that enters the house. Once a gay, light-hearted bird she now greets callers with a suggestive "goodbye."

Mrs. William Doak, wife of the new secretary of labor, likes her job of feeding 300 chickens at the Doak country home. But the family Polly (upper right) objects to her new place in the limelight.

Give a Gloritone Radio this Christmas

NEVER was there such an opportunity to make somebody happy Christmas morning with a new radio! Here's the recipe: Come in today and ask to hear the new Model 26 Gloritone. Listen to it, marvel (as does everyone who hears it!); look it over—note its shiny satin gloss—American walnut finish cabinet; fiddle with the controls; then say, "Deliver it Christmas morning to—you say who—all wrapped up in crackly tissue paper, tied with a big bow of Christmas ribbon, clever greeting card attached". Forty-nine dollars and ninety-five cents it costs, complete with tubes, ready to be unwrapped, exclaimed at, and set to bringing in Christmas carols...then you're ready to sit back and receive grateful encomiums from an extremely happy person!

Nice? You bet; and one of the nicest parts of it all is the fact that it only costs $49.95, complete with tubes, delivered, ready to go! Coming in today?

Y-INDUS DEFEATED IN CLOSE BATTLE

Toledo U. Beats Locals 30-29 with Bucket in Last Minute.

The Shovel Y-Indus basketball club dropped a heart breaking decision to Toledo University last night on the out-of-town floor 30 to 29. The game was closely contested all the way, not more than four points separating the teams at any time in the battle.

The local club took the lead in the scoring in the opening period leading 6 to 4 at the end of the quarter. Toledo edged itself into a slight lead by half time leading 15 to 14.

Battling fiercely in the third period to catch up with the eventual winners the Y-Indus club deadlocked the count 22-22 at the end of the third stanza.

Tough for Locals

Toledo's guard, Straka came through with a pair of foul shots in the final minutes of the game to bring the count to within one point of the Y-Indus score and then Day who had not scored before in the game looped his only field to take a 30 to 29 lead with less than half minute to play.

Bud Cram, star guard of the losers failed to connect on an attempted charity toss just after Day gained the lead for Toledo and the Y-Indus team saw its chances for seven victories in eight games disappear. Vic Gillis, who usually can be counted on to come through for points when they are needed most, could not locate the net with any degree of accuracy last night and garnered but two field goals and three fouls. Several sucker shots attempted by Gillis barely missed the net.

Cram High Scorer

Cram was high scorer for the losers. Bill Roush played his usual excellent floor game at the forward post. The seven points collected by Gillis last night brings his total to 107 for eight games for an average of better than 12 points a game.

The Shovel team will play Kenton St. Johns in the ninth game of the year on Monday night at the Shovel gym.

Reserve Prexy Welcomes Athletic Investigation

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 19—Western Reserve university welcomes an investigation of athletic subsidy charges made by Robert Bader, former Reserve student according to Dean W. D. Trautman.

"I hope we are investigated thoroughly it will settle any doubts our colleagues may have about us," Trautman said. "The idea that Reserve has been stepping out and buying athletes appears ridiculous in view of the last two unfortunate football seasons. But after so much has been said I would welcome an investigation to clear the air."

HONOR LATE MANAGER

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK Dec. 19—The New York Yankees are to have a constant reminder of their late manager, Miller Huggins, during their spring training season at St. Petersburg, Fla. Word was received yesterday that the park at which they train, formerly Crescent park, has been re-named Miller Huggins field.

CATHOLICS ON ROAD; DELAWARE BRINGING FLASHY LINEUP HERE

Bohyer May Shift Lineup for Game; Two N. C. O. Clashes.

While St. Mary's parochial cagers are making their first sally into foreign territory tonight Harding High's Presidents will make their first home stand of the year. Harding will meet Delaware on the floor of The Star auditorium. The Irish will journey to Norwalk to meet a Norwalk Catholic five.

St. Mary's has a record this year of one won and one lost in two starts and will be battling tonight to keep its average above the 500 per cent mark.

Harding has played in but one game this season and lost that to Kenton, 12 to 11 on the out of town court. The Presidents are not figured to have any better than an even chance to defeat the strong team that Delaware is expected to bring here.

Prelim Booked

A preliminary game to the Harding-Delaware battle is booked for 7:30 p. m. The Harding sophomore vocationals will face the Sparton Torch club team. The Harding battle will commence at 8:15.

Just who will take the floor to start the game for Harding is a question. Last week Clay, Smith, Bush, Morgan and Merkel made up the starting five. Of these five none except the latter two showed anything that would cause anyone to go into shouts of joy. It is probable this line-up will be shifted.

Substitutions will probably be made rather freely by Coach Bohyer who is still experimenting to find a good scoring combinations. Jack Ling, towering center candidate, will probably get an opportunity to display his wares tonight as may Lindsey, a guard. These two with Morgan, Merkel and Bush are probable choices to start the battle.

All of the following, Smith, Clay, Von Errett, Pickerel, Guthrie and Stark are expected to get into action some time in the game. Part of the latter named may be in the starting lineup.

Veteran Team Coming

Delaware is bringing a veteran aggregation here with Turley, flashy forward, leading the team. They may hand the short end of the count to the Presidents.

In county games booked for tonight Martel will play Claridon, Waldo will play Caledonia, Green Camp will meet Prospect and LaRue will clash with Pleasant.

Two other engagements in which N. C. O. teams will figure are the Galion-Bellevue struggle at Galion and the Bucyrus clash with Fremont on the Fremont court. Both teams were victors last week and Galion is almost a sure bet to chalk up another win tonight. Bucyrus may find the going rough against Fremont although not much is known here of the strength of the non-league outfit.

Mansfield and Ashland and Shelby will not play tonight.

BADGERS WIN

Wallops Penn Cagers in Opening Setto of Season.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 19—Wisconsin has served notice on the Western conference that it figures to have plenty to say about the 1930-31 basketball title.

The Badgers made the formal dedication of their new $500,000 field house a rousing success last night by walloping Pennsylvania's veteran combination, 25 to 12.

Loyola of Chicago, which ran up a string of 36 straight triumphs before being halted by Purdue late last season, opened its campaign last night with an impressive 48 to 21 victory over Arkansas State. Illinois had a matinee contest with Miami university, of Oxfords, O., this afternoon, and Pennsylvania will stop off on its tour at Notre Dame.

Two Heavy Aspirants in Madison Square Fight

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 19—Two members of the "younger set," Ernie Schaaf of Boston and Max Baer of San Francisco, clash in the feature bout in Madison Square Garden tonight with high hopes of stepping into the foreground of the heavyweight picture.

Schaaf, although he has campaigned sucessfully in the east for several years, never before has had a chance to perform in the Garden. Baer will be making his debut in the east.

The Pacific coast lad's record would seem to indicate he can take it, for he has won 24 of his 27 matches by knockouts and been beaten only once. Schaaf is one of the best of the younger heavyweights.

COLLIERS PICKS 1930 ALL-AMERICAN TEAM

Wes Fesler Again Placed at End in Mythical Lineup.

By United Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. Eleven colleges placed men on the all-American football team selected by Collier's Weekly. The choices follow:

Backs
Carideo, Notre Dame, quarter.
Pinckert, S. California, halfback.
Dodd, Tennessee, halfback.
Macalusco, Colgate, fullback.
Ends
Dalrymple, Tulane.
Fesler, Ohio State.
Line:
Sington, Alabama, tackle.
Rhea, Nebraska, tackle.
Koch, Baylor, guard.
Beckett, California, guard.
Ticknor, Harvard, center.

Hein of Washington State was named "utility linesman" and Mohler of Southern California "utility back."

Ticknor and Carideo are the only names on this year's list who also appeared on the Collier's all American of 1929.

MANSFIELD BEATEN BY WILLARD QUINT

Tygermen Drop First Game 15-14; Contest Poorly Played.

Mansfield High school demonstrated last night just why it is not expected to go anywhere in the N. C. O. basketball race when it dropped a poorly played game to Willard High's representatives. The score was 15 to 14.

A complete team of sophomores started the game for Mansfield and played most of the time. None of them had basketball experience before. The Willard team led throughout the game. The score at the half was 10 to 6.

Mansfield made determined bid for victory in the final period but fell one point short of tying the count. Seymour, Tyger forward, led the scoring with four field goals to his credit.

Schools Give Programs as Holiday Vacation Starts

Students of St. Mary's Give Entertainments in Rooms; Harding Girl Reserves in Charge of Assembly; Junior High School Pupils Conduct Programs.

Public and parochial schools closed this afternoon for a two weeks Christmas vacation. Studies were suspended for part of the day in all schools for programs and parties in assemblies or in the home rooms.

St. Mary's school celebrated Christmas with parties or programs in the various rooms. The Girl Reserves of Harding High school presented a program in a main assembly this morning.

Programs were presented in assemblies at Central Junior and Vernon Heights Junior High schools today. Two plays given by the seventh grade were a feature of the Vernon assembly. The first, "The Christmas Change" was presented by the following cast:

Preceding the play, the school orchestra furnished music and Mary Elizabeth Maley led in devotionals. Martha Laucher gave a piano number. Harold Lewis, Page Boyer and Ralph Mills sang "We Three Kings of Orient Are." Mary Lou Ulsh and Jack Markwith, president and vice president of the class, presided.

Music by the orchestra was followed by the second play, "Christmas at Punkin Holler" with a cast as follows.

Mary Lou Ulsh, "Miss Peppergrass"; Virginia Jackson, "Aunt Hepsey"; Robert Buhlman, "Hiram"; Neil Long, "Jacob"; Goldie Ann Williams, "Lucindy"; Delmar Wilcox, "Johnny"; Elwin Jones, "Sammy"; Rhea Harrod, "Patty"; Ruth Robson, "Betsey"; Harry Pelfer, "Reuben"; Harold Lewis, "Aaron"; Jean Quick "Mosetta"; Doris Charles, "Mariana"; Helen Belser, "Faith"; Martha Laucher, "Sally"; Mary Anne Young, "Rhoda."

The main assembly home room of Central Junior High school, of which Miss Grace Colvin is in charge, presented the program at the downtown school. Mary Cahill and Karl Bechtle, presidents of the room, presided.

Two selections by the school orchestra, under the direction of T. R. Evans, opened the program. They were "Spring Time," Saenger and "The First Noel," a traditional melody.

Eugene Agnew read a scripture lesson from the book of Luke followed by a violin solo, "Love's Old Sweet Song" by Robert Burton. Lucille Brabson gave a reading, "Ma and the Auto." Karl Bechtle played a piano solo, "Habanera" from "Carmen" after which Margaret Brooks gave a reading, "When Father Plays Santa." A chorus composed of section nine students, under the direction of Mr. Evans, sang "Yuletide Night," closing the program.

Prisoner Files Answer to Divorce Petition

Marion L. Trimmer, an inmate of Ohio penitentiary, yesterday filed an answer in common pleas court to a divorce petition brought by Cecil Leona Trimmer.

Trimmer denies that the plaintiff has been a true and faithful wife as she claims in her petition, and asks the court to award the custody of two minor children to his father, William L. Trimmer, who, he says, will give the children a good home. His attorney is Frank Wiedemann.

STOCK MARKET STEADY TODAY

...es Start Quiet Convalescence from Recent Nervous State.

By The Associated Press

...RK, Dec. 19--The securities markets cheerfully began a convalescence today.

...slowed up to a leisurely pace the firm tone of prices ...ntained, particularly in ...ities, both stocks and ...The recent state of nerves, ...convulsions and hallucinations seemed a thing of the past.

...was some profit-taking in the market and price trends ...a little in the morning. ...industrials moved rather ...Auburn auto again ...widely, but yesterday's talk ...echnical corner appeared to ...exaggerated. In the rails, New York Central, Baltimore & ...Wichison, Union Pacific, and ...& Western gained 3 to 5 ... Industrials gaining 2 to 4 ... included Air Reduction, ...Westinghouse Electric, ...Manville Electric Autolite ... Such issues as U. S. Steel ... Telephone, North American ... Anaconda made narrow ...

...more confident attitude toward the rail securities appeared to be based upon little if anything ...new in the situation, but ...a feeling that pessimism over the rate of rail earnings had been overdone, in view of the fact that the carriers' phyiscial equipment is in the best shape in its history and operating economies are progressing, also, there is a growing opinion that the eastern carriers are ironing out their disagreements over consolidation. Conferences of rail chiefs are expected to be resumed next week.

Latest reports have it that a four-trunk line system will be agreed upon, as against the interstate commerce commission's five-trunk plan. One widespread report has it that Pennsylvana may sell the Lehigh to the Chesapeake & Ohio, and seek to retain the Wabash; that the Baltimore & Ohio will get the Reading, and the New York Central the Lackawanna. Anything like official confirmation is of course, lacking.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

Tangerines are offered to Marion produce shoppers today at 25 to 40 cents a dozen. First cousin to the orange, these tangerines have proven a popular addition to the citrus fruit line here in previous years. They are imported to Marion markets from Florida.

Butter was generally unchanged today, although a number of grocers are preparing to quote special prices for Saturday trading. Egg prices remain unchanged.

Little in the way of fancy fruits and vegetables is being offered for Christmas. A good supply of select oranges, however, have been stocked by grocers especially for Christmas trading.

WHEAT SLUMPS TO LOW LEVEL

Increased Shipments from Southern Hemisphere React Unfavorably.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 19—Wheat fell today to the lowest prices which the July delivery has reached since 1901. Reports of larger shipments of wheat from the southern hemisphere, together with pressure of Canadian offerings abroad were largely responsible. Corn dropped in sympathy with wheat, and quickly sold at nearly the lowest point reached this season. Offering at 1¾ cents setback to ¼ cent advance, wheat continued to sag. Corn started ⅜@1 cent down and subsequently showed an additional loss, but then rallied.

Enlarged domestic wheat receipts added weight to the bearish influence of record breaking low prices of wheat announced from Liverpool and Winnipeg. Domestic wheat arrivals at the principal markets totaled 691 cars compared with 567 a week ago and 400 a year ago. Meanwhile, Chicago wheat was without adequate buying support except that government sponsored agencies continued to sustain old crop deliveries representing wheat now in storage.

Dearth of buying both in wheat and corn was emphasized by uncertainty resulting from Washington reports of likelihood of further attempts at increased government regulation of commodity exchanges. It was said the immediate effect of such reports was to curtail speculative interest and tend to paralyze market action. Increased primary receipts of corn also tended to handicap higher prices.

The total being much larger than either a week or a year ago. Oats today held relatively firm. Provisions advanced on account of scarcity of offerings of December lard.

TREASURY RECEIPTS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19—Treasury receipts for Dec. 17 were $304,274,413.04; expenditures $296,524,605.87; balance $381,372,832.61.

TO PREPARE BASKET

Plans to send a well-filled basket to a needy family on Christmas eve were made by the Co-Workers class of Greenwood Evangelical church at a meeting last night with Mrs. Mildred Caldwell of 520 North Greenwood street. Devotions were read and a Christmas exchange was held. Mrs. J. B Wrenn of 125 Wall street will entertain Jan. 29.

ROUTS 4 HOLDUP MEN

By The Associated Press

STEUBENVILLE, O., Dec. 19—John O'Donnell, 33, steel worker, of Brilliant, near here, was going home yesterday and saw four men trying to break into the post office. He asked what they were doing. They told him to stick up his hands. O'Donnell resented this and took a gun away from one. The four fled, leaving their stolen automobile.

GREATLY-

Increased Protection

for NATIONAL CITY PATRONS

The National City Bank & Trust Company announces with pleasure that its Safe Deposit Vault is now equipped with the

McClintock Burglar Alarm System

This is the most modern type of electrical alarm. It practically equips our Vault with Ears, Nerves and a Loud Voice that will warn instantly of any attack upon any part of the Vault structure. This additional protection is enjoyed by everyone who rents a Safe Deposit Box at the NATIONAL CITY for the safekeeping of business papers and personal valuables.

An After-Hour Depository

has also been installed in the bank's conveniently located building, corner of Main and Center streets, and beginning tomorrow, December 20th, Marion business houses can of the day or night—365 days every year. Merchants, restaurants, theatre owners and other commercial establishments need no longer run the risk incurred by keeping at their places of business the cash received after regular banking hours.

The public is cordially invited to call Saturday from 7 to 10 p. m. and inspect both the burglar alarm and the after-hour depository.

Love's Reawakening

A Wife's Triumph Over Jealousy.

BY ADELE GARRISON

The Basement Playroom Rings with Shouts of Happy Youngsters.

"O-H-H! Rod! Look!"

As Jim pulled the switch which turned on the lights of the Christmas tree, Junior grabbed his cousin by the hand and the two youngsters ran two or three steps into the living room, then stopped, and eyed the tree from the star of Bethlehem at the top to the mound of artificial snow around it. There was rapturous approval in their eyes and in Junior's voice there was another note, that of triumph, as he exclaimed:

"What did I tell you, Rod. Didn't I tell you it would be a sniffer? Oh! Mama!" He threw himself on Rod and gave me an ecstatic hug. "It's the best one ever. Now, where's my chair? You know what we do, Rod. We've each got a chair with our presents on it."

Averting Disappointment

"In a second, sweetheart." I ... back from a rush in ... of his chair, because not ... the pleasure of witnessing ... at the basement playroom. I would let him be disappointed even for a minute at the ... gifts in his chair. "You ... Rod and Hank and Bill ... only a few things in your ... cause most of your things ... are in the basement. ... go down there first?"

Roderick said emphatically ... Junior looked troubled. ... don't look at my presents ... only till I come back up, ... he asked anxiously.

I answered with a ... at the remembrance ... caring care with which ... and wraps his small ... every member of the family ... delight in watching us ...

... do down stairs. We ... back and look at the ... afterward."

... stooped down with them, ... and Jim, Katie whis- ... that she "had eferything ... for breakfast."

The Surprise

... little boys went wild ... and astonishment ... and Junior were like lit- ... boys, running from one ... another, exclaiming and asking innumerable questions of Dicky, who kept close to them. But William and Henry stood stock still for a minute, looking from the work benches to the pool tables, from the miniature boxing ring to the corner set apart for a "gym" with punching bags, a goal for shooting baskets and horizontal bars. The platform with its curtain suggesting all sorts of amateur performances was near the fireplace which held a blazing log fire, and had comfortable chairs and a reading table near it, while on either side of the grate bookshelves were ranged, filled with books from Junior's own library, and others which we fancied William and Henry might like.

"Gee!" Henry said at last, all his soul in the monosyllable. "Gee!"

"And that's why Mr. Ticer wouldn't let us come near!" William said comprehendingly. "Look, Hank! there's a big pool table and a little one. The little one's for the kids, of course, but the big one——"

"The big one is for you two boys first of all," I told them, "as are the big work benches. When you're not busy with the tables, the rest of us may play on them, but they belong first to you."

"Gee!" It was William now who spoke. "Oh! boy, what a Christmas! Thank you!"

"Thank you," Henry echoed, and there was an expression in each pair of boyish eyes which caught at my throat, and which told me that I would have no trouble in "managing" Henry and William for the rest of their sojourn with us.

I saw Marion whisper to her mother, and then run upstairs. When she came down she held two parcels of identical size and holiday wrappings.

"Look here, everybody," she corroled. "We youngsters have never seen this, but Mums says these two always used to do this and it's loads of fun."

Harry and Dicky each took one of the boxes she held out to them, and then began a bowing and scraping and gesturing which brought bowls of appreciative laughter from Roderick and Junior, and grins to the other faces.

"It gives me great pleasure to present you this slight token of my esteem," Dicky intoned.

"I am offering you this paltry present with the wish that it were a million times more", Harry Underwood rejoined. Then they opened their parcels, disclosing boxes of cigars of the same brand and quality, and immediately lighted from them and bestowed others upon my father and Noel.

Shortly we visited the kitchen, and soon one of Katie's famous Christmas breakfasts was on the table. But only the grown-ups did justice to it. The boys were far too excited to eat anything except what I insisted upon their swallowing, and Dicky was impatient of even that discipline.

"They'll get hungry enough after awhile," he said, "let them go."

There was something odd in his voice as he watched them depart, Junior with his arm thrown boyishly and awkwardly over Roderick's shoulder, and as they reached the door he called suddenly:

"Having a good time, son?"

Junior halted, looked around, then as galvanized by a sudden thought he turned and pulling Roderick with him ran back to us.

"I'm having the most time I ever had," he said, "and it's all because I've got somebody to play with. Can't Rod stay here always and be my brother?"

"We'll see," Dicky said astonishing "run away now and play."

I looked at him amazed. It was not like him to make a promise to his small son which he knew he could not keep. But he gave me a signal to come into another room with him, and when he had reached the library he drew a letter from his pocket and handed it to me.

"Read that," he said. "It's from Harriet."

laid there a long time me thinking about Christmas and him thinking about me, and both of us so happy it kind of hurt me inside. When a fella is as happy as I am just before Christmas it seems like he has got to grow up all at once so as to have room inside of him for all his happiness. I thought how lucky I am to have such a grandfather and mother and father and dog, and that maybe I was lucky to have such an ant. And then I thought how lucky they all are to have me, and that made me happy too, and I thought how much I love Annabelle Lee, and I was glad the doctor had brung me in this house instead of leaving me some other place. My mother told me once that he brung me in the middle of the night, so he might have made a mistake. I bet if he had brung me to some colored people they would of been surprized when they found me there in the morning, but maybe not. Then I was wishing I could give Hopper a new leg as long as his good one, and then all at once I heard my father at the bottom of the stairs asking me if I hadn't better get up. And when a fella's father asks him that, he had better. When I had fed my face and everything I wrote Younisses name on her skates and we all got to school early and hung our things on the Christmas Tree, and we all spoke pieces and the teacher gave us all some candy to eat, and the teacher had a silk scarf on the tree for Mush and one for his wife, and they came up, and Mush's wife made a speech and told us she was related to the king and queen of London, and Mush laughed and she slapped him and he backed up till his heels hit the platform and he got down and looked silly. Then we all went out of school like a cyclone and hustled home to show our presents, only I went around to Younisses house while she showed her mother her skates, and her mother axted her if she had kissed me for them, so she did. I certainly felt foolish, but I wished she had as many feet as a thousand legged worm and I had enough spoodulicks to buy skates for all of them. Then we went skating, and I whittled with my new knife whilst she skated, and she let me try her skates. It is like having two Christmases, only we we didn't have any turkey for this one. The turkey we didn't have was lucky too.

Rumors Persist That Rockne Will Quit Post

By The Associated Press

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 19 — The big rumor and report boys around South Bend still persist in resigning Knute Rockne's job for him.

The latest gossip is that Rockne will retire as Notre Dame's football coach, but will remain as athletic director. The boys have even lined up candidates as his successor, namely Hunk Anderson, present first assistant to Rockne; Harry Stuhldreher, quarterback of the famous "four horsemen" and now coach at Villanova; Jimmy Phelan, new head coach at the University of Washington, and Slats Gill Madigan, coach at St. Mary's college, California.

Bearcats Open Season with Hoosier Quintet

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 19—The University of Cincinnati basketball team, either champions or co-champions of the Buckeye Conference during the organization's existence, opens the conference season here tonight with the DePauw Tigers from Greencastle, Ind.

DePauw and Wabash, also of Indiana, were admitted to the Buckeye loop recently and the game marks the initial here of the Hoosier schools in any sport as a conference member.

Rudolph Wins Battle for National Cue Title

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 19—Once more the world's pocket billiards championship belongs to Erwin Rudolph, spectacular shot-maker from Chicago.

Rudolph staged a great uphill fight to upset the defending champion, Ralph Greenleaf of New York, in the final match of the championship round-robin tournament last night, 125-120 in 37 innings, and wound up his tournament record with seven straight victories. Greenleaf was runner-up with five.

Alabama Primed for Journey to Coast

By The Associated Press

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Dec. 19—Alabama's Crimson Tide was primed today for its third journey to Pasadena, Calif., to engage a Pacific coast champion in the Rose bowl.

The New Year's day game with Washington State will mark the end of eight years of coaching at Alabama for Wallace Wade.

It also was Wade's fourth journey to Pasadena, three as a coach and once as a player.

Those who watched the Crimsons yesterday were encouraged when John (Monk) Campbell, quarterback and spinning ace, though limping from a twisted knee, dropped into his place with the varsity backfield.

CARNERA WINS AGAIN

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec. 19—Reggie Meen, a pink-cheeked English lad, went back to a north of England shoe factory today a sadder and wiser heavyweight. Reggie thought he could whip Primo Carnera Italian mammountain, and discovered he was mistaken. Carnera toyed with Meen for one round. Early in the second round he floored the Briton but Reggie got up. Another powerful blow sent him to the canvas again and the referee halted the bout.

SCHEDULE COMPLETED

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 19—John Carroll university has completed its nine-game 1931 football schedule by negotiating a game with Wilmington college to be played here Oct. 23.

OPERETTAS GIVEN

Two Schools Present Christmas Programs at Galion.

GALION, Dec. 19—Pupils of the first six grades of the North and West School buildings presented two operettas Thursday night at the senior high school auditorium. "Santa's Toy Shop" was given by the North school with principal parts taken by Howard Knorr, Howard Dewalt, Daniel Cameron, James Quiggle, James Essex and Charles Prosser.

The West school presented "The Night Before Christmas." The part of Santa Claus was taken by Marvin Gans. Other principal parts were taken by Catherine Plack, Nola Haislet, Marguerite Self, Miriam Pfeifer, James Nichols and Mary Kathryn Mumford.

Galion B. P. O. Elks initiated four new members at a meeting Thursday night. A smoker was held and a venison supper was served.

* * *

Bridge club associates of Miss Alice Graham enjoyed their Christmas party at her home on Thursday night. Three tables were filled for bridge.

A Christmas tree and yuletide decorations prevailed in the home of Mrs. Henry Hooker when members of the Unity club met at her home.

* * *

Mrs. Jack Gay entertained her bridge club Thursday with a 7 o'clock dinner. Bridge was played at three tables.

TINKER WANTS JOB

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 19—Joe Tinker, of "Evers to Tinker to Chance" baseball fame, wants to become an umpire. The former Cub star is dickering with President Thomas Hickey of the American association for a job next season.

ASKS MOTORISTS TO AID SCHOOL PATROL

Central Junior Boys Work for Safety of Fellow Students.

Cooperation of motorists with the safety patrol organized at Central Junior High school is asked by Mrs Blanche Ward, representative of the secretary of state's office who started the patrol in its work today

Object of the patrol is to guide students across street intersections as they go to and from school The patrols do not attempt to direct vehicular traffic but motorists can assist in the safety drive by traveling slowly through school zones and by coming to a stop when students are crossing the street Mrs Ward said

A patrol of 35 boys makes up the Central Junior High school unit, the first organized in the city public schools One was organized last spring at St Marys parochial school and is operating effectively

The patrol works in shifts of 11 boys each throughout the day, one operating in the morning, another at noon and the third after school in the afternoon

Mrs Ward has been employed in the secretary of state's office for several years to do safety work among school children in an effort to reduce accidents in which automobiles figure Since the drive began all over the country several years ago accidents among school children have showed a marked decrease she said

England Reports Prince Recovering from Chill

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec 19—The chill from which the Prince of Wales suffered yesterday is taking its normal course it was stated at his residence York house, today He was said to have had a good night

The British public and press accustomed to official reports with regard to illness of its royal figures took the York house statements at face value and accepted the official explanation of the Prince's malady as a simple chill

..."...n inspiration," cried ... Mr. Murphy to get a ...oD you like finnan ...ella blessedest? Sheila ... liked strawberry jam, ...muffins, honeydew melon ...thing else?" inquired Fanny

"I would like a cream puff or a chocolate eclair," ventured Sheila. She had never been consulted thus about her preference in food, her grandmother being adamant about what was and was not suitable for growing children.

That afternoon they rode on a bus up Riverside drive. In the evening a tall man Mr. Wentworth, came, bringing Fanny orchids. Sheila a bouquet with a paper frill.

Monday morning Fanny took her daughter to the place where she worked and introduced her to Mr Hirshberg and seven or eight of the prettiest ladies Sheila had ever seen in her life.

"This is my little girl," was what Fanny said. The tone of her voice, her smile, her radiant bearing, said, "Isn't she a darling" Isn't she the sweetest, dearest, cleverest, most beautiful, adorable, charming child you ever saw?" Mr Hirshberg patted Sheila on the head, presented her with a dollar, granted Fanny the three days off she asked for.

Sheila's heart had ached hotly at the thought of her mother working for a living, but now she decided that work that meant dressing up every day in a succession of beautiful costumes was something altogether delightful.

"Does Mr. Hirshberg make dresses for little girls?" she asked her mother on leaving.

"No, sweetheart. If he did I'd have him make you one."

"I didn't mean that," said Sheila. "I thought—maybe he'd let me be a model too, and you could afford to let me stay with you. I've saved quite a lot—$25."

"Blessedest!" Fanny choked, squeezed Sheila's hand. It was some time before she could explain that little girls had to do what their fathers said. That was the law—at least in this case.

"But we could hide, couldn't we?" suggested Sheila.

"They'd find us — your grandmother . . . Darling, you love your father, don't you?"

"Yes, Mother. Of course I would go and visit Dad occasionally, but I'd rather stay with you." She added firmly "And Im going to when I'm older. Is 14 old enough?"

"Darling you've made Mother so happy. I'll live on that hope. But you'll have to finish school."

"Well, 16, then. And every time I get a chance I'll run off and come—maybe this Christmas. Anyway the next one."

That night Sheila was sick, terrifically sick. But the worst was over in half an hour. Afterward she was allowed a comforting hot water bottle instead of nasty hot wet towels, nor was she scolded and told she should have known that rich food would make her sick.

After a morning in bed and a diet of tea and toast, Sheila was able to take in a marionette show. They dined at home, went early to bed. The next day was Wednesday, the last day. They were both certain it was the last day, but by mutual consent they avoided mentioning it. They had a feverishly happy morning shopping. Then they walked home hand in hand, their hearts too burdened with the shadow of parting to make talk possible.

In the front hall Mrs Murphy was again waiting, this time her face portentously mournful.

"There's two men been here asking for you," she burst out. "I told them you were out of town and slammed the door in their faces, but they had the impudence not to believe me. They've been hanging around watching the house the whole afternoon."

It had come. The parting the little death, was upon them. They barely had time to remove their wraps and warm themselves at the fire Mrs. Murphy had kindled before she brought up a card.

"It's your Cousin Edward," said Fanny. "Shall we let him come up?"

"Yes," said Sheila viciously. "He hates to climb stairs."

Mr. Philbrick, puffing and red faced, greeted Fanny with his usual urbanity.

"I thought I should find the runaway here," he said, pinching Sheila's cheek. "I must say you're very cosy—a charming room."

"Thank you. We were about to have tea. Will you join us?"

Mr Philbrick was tired and chilled. He sank gratefully into Fanny's comfortable big chair and accepted some tea.

"I'm afraid we'll have to go along," he sighed at last. "This young lady probably doesn't realize the anxiety and distress she has caused; but I think I can assure her that they'll be too glad to have her back to think of punishment."

"I'll leave my presents," said Sheila loudly, "until I come back."

"Yes, darling," answered Fanny evenly. "I'll keep them until you come back."

RIDGEWAY WOMAN CLAIMED BY DEATH

Mrs. Mary Ann Brugler, 80, Dies at Home of Daughter Here.

Mrs. Mary Ann Brugler, 80, of Ridgeway died yesterday at 7 P. m. at the home of her daughter Mrs. George Stevenson of 193 Windsor street. She had been ill since July 23 when she visited the Stevenson home and died of heart trouble and dropsy.

Mrs. Brugler had spent the winter with her daughter here for many years. Besides the daughter living here she leaves a son Ralph Brugler of Pennsylvania and a daughter Mrs. Bertha Harshfield of East Liberty. Her grandchildren are Mrs. Lucille Predmore C. E. Swysgood and W. O. Swysgood of Ridgeway, Mrs. James Endsley of Marion and Mrs. Mary Lady of Bucyrus. A daughter, Mrs. Minnie Swysgood, is dead. Three step-grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren are living.

A sister, Mrs. Jane Brugler, lives in Milford Center. One sister and a brother preceded her in death.

Mrs. Brugler was born June 19, 1850, in Rushsylvania to John and Katherine Tropp Kennedy. Fifty years ago she was married in Logan county to Oscar Outland who died Nov. 11, 1886. Her second husband Isaiah Brugler, to whom she was married in 1890 preceded her in death in 1911. She was a member of the Methodist Protestant church of Walnut Grove and of the Ladies Aid society.

Short funeral services will be held Monday at 8:30 a. m. at the Stevenson home with prayer by Dr. C. E. Turley pastor of Epworth M. E. church. At 10:30 a. m. services will be held in the Methodist Protestant church at Walnut Grove with burial in the East Liberty cemetery. Rev. J. C. Williams of Columbus will officiate. The body will be removed to the Stevenson home late this afternoon from the W. C. Boyd funeral home on South Main street and may be viewed after tonight at 7.

One Building Destroyed by Fire at Kenton.

KENTON Dec 19 Two fires, the first to be reported in Kenton for several weeks, occurred during the last two days.

The first spectacular blaze occurred when flames destroyed the unoccupied dwelling owned by H. E. Pearce, insurance agent, and Clara Beckman on the south side.

A second blaze was reported when sparks from the chimney caught the roof of the Levi Newman home in the south end. Neighbors first discovered the fire and spread the alarm.

All may not agree wth some of the stands taken by Senator Wesley Jones, of Washington, but all should realize that his warning against an excess of jobless and drought relief has the merit of being backed by good, common sense. Unless great vigilance is exercised, the country will be held up good and hard on pleas for relief.

Moved up in the order of their seniority, Captain A. B. Randall will be promoted from the command of the George Washington to that of the Leviathan and Captain George Fried, of the America, will succeed Randall on the George Washington. It was hinted that Fried would get the Leviathan command owing to his heroic rescues, but it seems that Randall has figured in the rescue business himself, having saved 294 lives in mid-ocean in four dangerous situations.

The Spanish Situation.

Having read how King Alfonso and his queen motored through the streets of Madrid in an open car a day or two ago and were cheered by the populace, one is just about forced to conclude that the revolution of last week and this was somewhat of the nature of a flash in the pan.

As a matter of fact, a perusal of newspaper files will show that, on the average, there has been a revolution in Spain every twelve months for the last twenty years, or even longer, and some of those of a decade or more ago were far more threatening than any which has broken out since the late Primo de Rivera took over the government as dictator.

The fact is that the great majority of the Spanish revolutions, or outbreaks having the semblance of revolutions, have had their inception in either one or two, or both of two, provinces which are hotbeds of communism and anarchy. It has usually been the case that they have been fanned by some leader or leaders of the Spanish republican party thirsting for power, and have received the support of other elements, largely made up of men in professional life or members of students bodies given to opposition to whatever is and support of almost anything in the way of government which is not. These elements, naturally, are always augmented in any outbreak inaugurated by the reds.

That they have not been successful thus far in overthrowing the government is largely due to the fact that they have never been able to secure the cooperation of a sufficient element of the citizenship to secure enough numerical strength to oppose successfully the Spanish army, which, in the main, has remained loyal to the king. That they have failed in gaining this support is largely due to these facts: the Spanish people as a whole are adverse to change, to any innovation; they have become accustomed to the monarchy; they have known their king as a child, as a youth and as a man and have an honest liking and esteem for him, highly admiring him for his daring and his unquestioned great personal courage. And so the great body of the Spanish citizenship asks, "Why exchange our king, whom we know, for a president of whose merit we know not?"

When the Spanish republicans are able to overcome this feeling—it is possible tomorrow, or next week, or next year, equally possible that the change will not be worked in the life of Alfonso—the Spanish monarchy will speedily become a thing of the past.

The Word, "Best," Not Meaningless.

We feel that it is perfectly safe to say that the refusal of the state supreme court to review the Aller matter, bringing to an end the legal contention over the awarding of the Main street paving contract by the city to P. Drake & sons, a local contracting firm, is eminently satisfactory to Marion citizens generally. It is possible that the satisfaction is the greater owing to the exasperating delay experienced in the improvement of Center street due to a somewhat similar situation.

Aller set up the claim that his bid was $7,000 lower than that of the Drake firm, but that the city withheld the contract from him on the ground that he was not the "lowest and best" bidder. The court of common pleas held that the city had failed to show that he was not the best as well as the lowest bidder and issued an order restraining the city from entering into a contract with the Drake firm. The matter was carried to the Third district appellate court, which dissolved the injunction, holding that no court had a legal right to interfere with the awarding of a public contract unless fraud was the issue involved. The Drake firm immediately took up the work of improving the street and completed it some weeks in advance of the refusal of the supreme court to review the matter, which refusal, it may be said, may be taken to show its accord with the finding of the court of appeals.

While, as we understand it, the appellate court rendered the opinion as stated and did not specifically go into the matter of the "best" bidder, it may be taken that it and the supreme court as well are disinclined to accept the view that the addition of the words "and best" to "lowest" in advertisements for bids was purposeless; that the word "best," was not to be regarded. Accepting the view that the addition of "best" had a purpose and was a condition in the advertisement, what agency other than the one authorized to make the award would have the right to decide the relative quality of two or more bids submitted?

In the light of the finding of the court of appeals in this matter and the refusal of the supreme cout to review it, the fact is evident that those to whom is committed the making of awards for public improvemens are not tied down and forced to give contracts to the lowest bidder if they are convinced that the bid which is the lowest is not the best. This has long been recognized in many cities of the state, but, so far as our memory goes, has never been recognized here. It is conceivable that situations may arise in the future where it will not be for the best interests of the community to make awards to the lowest bidder; when it, in the end, will be better business and more profitable to the citizenship to award contracts to some higher bidder or bidders. It may be well to keep the finding of the appellate court and the refusal of the higher tribunal to review it in mind at such times.

Reciting to a gathering up there that 12,000 major crimes were committeed in Cleveland in 1929, the director of the Cleveland Association for Criminal Justice expressed a fear that the city was due to suffer a mighty crime wave. At this distance, it looks that a record of 1,000 major crimes a month might reasonably be thus classified.

A Worldwide Air Service.

As the result of a conference between United States and Canadian postal officials, held in Ottawa, the plan to operate a passenger and mail plane service between this country and Europe is to be decidedly augmented.

The original plan, as outlined in these columns a week or such a matter ago, called for a three-day service between the United States and Europe by way of Bermuda, the Azores and Portugal. The present plan is to enlarge the service by an air line between Winnipeg and St. Paul and Minneapolis with arrangements for a forty-two-hour service between Calgary and Miami. This Miami-Calgary line is to be extended through Fort Morow to Alaska and thence on across the Behring strait to Asia. In addition to these extensions a line is to be operated between Calgary and Vancouver and lines will be established between Lethbridge, Alberta, and Great Falls, Montana, and between Vancouver and Seattle. And all this is to be accomplished within the next three years.

Thus what was to be a transatlantic service is to be developed into a service which will, in connection with existing lines, cover the United States and Canada and carry on to Europe to the east, Central and South America to the south and Asia to the westward and go on to Australia.

And yet we are solmnely assured that aviation is merely in its infancy.

Tony Volpe, ranked as second in importance to Scarface Al Capone in Chicago's gangland, has been arrested by immigration agents and will be sent to Ellis island within two weeks and deported as an undesirable alien. It is worth remembering that pardon or parole boards, or time off for good behavior, or tricky lawyers subsidized by crimeland can not prevail in behalf of one deported.

The Indiana Farm Bureau Cooperative association announces that thus far this year it has paid dividends of $190,000 on its purchasing business of approximately $4,500,000. Here's one lot of farmers who do not appear to be in crying need of relief.

A nationally known insurance company located in Hartford, Connecticut, announces that motor traffic deaths in the United States this year will be approximately 32,000, an increase of four per cent over 1929. The time is near, however, when they will be bound to decrease. We trust associates of the land who become the victims of the most of them will soon be gone.

The finding of the fossil remains of an immense elephant in northeastern Indiana is considered unusually important by scientists by reason of the fact that the skull measurements and the tusks 16½ feet long indicate an animal at least fifteen feet in height and the further fact that there are indications that the entire skeleton may be recovered. Of Mother Nature plays odd pranks. As ... of the animal life dwindles, the stature of man increases.

Editorial Opinion.

PRESTIGE OF THE BRITISH THRONE.

Several recent observers have remarked upon the increased power of the monarchy in England during the last 100 years. The architect of the revived fortunes of the throne was unquestionably Queen Victoria. No doubt is left by a number of recent books, notably the memoirs of E. F. Benson and the correspondence of Gladstone, that, although after the passing of the prince consort she apparently retired into privacy, she continued to exercise a dominating influence upon the political activities of her prime ministers. Not once, but many tmes, she overrode the wishes of Disraeli, Gladstone, and Salisbury.

She was able to do this because of her consciousness that she thoroughly understood and expressed the desires of the strongest section of the community—the newly-enfranchised middle classes. The return of the crown to much of its ancient power was therefore due to its being in absolute sympathy with the opinion of the politically dominant class. One might have expected that when the further extension of the franchise transferred political preponderance from the middle classes to the democracy some diminution of the monarchy's popularity would have occurred.

It was, indeed, though few appreciated it at the time, a critical moment in the history of the British monarchy. But no such diminution happened. Instead the British kingship has adapted itself without fricton or loss of time to the needs of a democratic community. It has established a sympathy with the aims of the democracy which bids fair to rival in intensity the mutual understanding of Victoria and the bourgeoisie.—Christian Science Monitor.

MR. BAKER PLEADS FOR TOLERANCE.

Nothing, perhaps, is more difficult to attain than tolerance. The more strongly a belief is held the greater is the impatience with those who do not accept it. A notable effort to promote better understanding among those whose disagreement are often fundamental has been undertaken by the "Seminar on Human Relations," in which Catholics, Protestants and Jews participate. The purpose was well explained by the guest of honor at the dinner in New York, Mr. Newton D. Baker, once secretary of war, a publicist of high intellectual qualities and broad human sympathies.

In accepting the medal which was presented to him for his activities in endeavoring to promote a better understanding between Christian and Jew in America Mr. Baker said that the modern world could not continue to meet new problems if it "was lumbered up with superstitions and prejudices." Such problems obviously require clear thinking. As Dr. Johnson said on one occasion, "First clear your minds of cant." None should be expected to abandon deep-seated convictions; but it is possible to hold them with due consideration and respect for those who do not share them.

Fanaticism and bigotry have played too large a part in the affairs of the world. They imperil democratic government, as Mr. Baker points out. "Democracy as a form of political organization," he said, "can only succeed in an educated people. And education, if it means anything, means the art of thinking clearly. The dispelling of religious prejudice is a long step in that direction." Philadelphia Inquirer.

Paulding's Three County Seats.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

The present seat of government of Paulding county, and of the courts of the county, is the third this county has had despite the fact that it is the newest of the counties in order of establishment. It was not organized until 1839.

The first county capital was New Rochester. It was in the heyday of the stage coach, and the principal recommendation lay in the fact that it was on the stage route between Defiance and Toledo. It was the most flourishing town in the county at the time, but with the decline of the stage coach it lost prestige.

In 1841 the seat of the county was removed to Charloe, which, though in a picturesque position, owed its prestige mainly to its historical character. Before the white men laid out Charloe, there had been an important village of the Ottawas in that place, about 600 Indians in all at the head of whom stood old Chief Oquanoxa. The tribe was brought out shortly before this and took lands west of the Mississippi to which the government removed them.

Both of these places were inconveniently situated and the people of the county sought a location for their county buildings near the center of the county. Paulding was laid out in 1850 with a view to becoming the county capital and the very next year the legislature enacted a law making it the county seat.

It was in the midst of a dense forest at the time, without roads to go to and from it. But the people of the county believed in it—felt that with draining of the swamps and building of the roads would make it the seat of one of the greatest agricultural counties in the state—as it has become.

Never Become Excited in Accidents.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Burns and scalds are common accidents. Often they lead to serious and disabling conditions. In children and old people such accidents are extremely dangerous. Great care and nursing may be required to save the lives of such injured persons.

Burns are commonly caused by exposure to fires, hot metals, or electric currents, or by contact with strong acids or alkalies. Neglect in the handling of steam, boiling water, or hot oil, and hot beverages, such as tea or coffee, often leads to scalding. Scalds of a severe type are serious and in every respect approach the dangers of burns.

If you have been careless and your clothing catches on fire, never run for help. Running will stir the flames and cause them to burn more. It is best to lie down on the floor, and roll up in an overcoat or blanket. If such a covering is not within reach, simply lie down and roll over slowly. As you roll, beat out the flames with your hands.

Never become excited if you can help it. Coolness in this predicament will undoubtedly save you much discomfort, anxiety and great danger.

When the skin is reddened from a burn or scald, there is usually severe burning pain. The skin becomes more red and, eventually, blisters form. If the burn is more severe, there may be actual destruction of the skin and underlying structures.

In the minor burn or scald, where the skin is simply reddened, it is not always necessary to call a doctor. In such a case it is best to keep the air away from the reddened area. This is done by applying a thin paste made of water and baking soda, flour or starch. Vaseline, carbolized vaseline, olive oil, castor oil or fresh lard may be used. A light dressing, held in place by a bandage, will give desirable protection.

If blisters have formed, the same treatment may be used, but then it is always best to consult with a physician. Where there is extensive destruction of the skin and the tissues beneath the skin, the doctor should be called at once. Serious cases require the most capable and scientific treatment at our disposal.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," it has been said. Nowhere is this truer than with regard to burns and scalds.

Great care should be taken to avoid such damage of the skin.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

A.O. Q—What do you advise for pernicious anemia? What causes numbness of the limbs, and what treatment would you suggest?

A—This condition requires specific medical attention and advice. Have your doctor advise you. Poor circulation would account for the numbness. With improved health the circulation will improve.

Thank You. Q—What do you advise for "pink eye?"

A—"Pink eye" is due to infection, and should have proper medical attention and treatment. Have your doctor advise you.

GLEN C. Q—Would a growth of bone in the nose cause the nose to be crooked? If not, could the nose be reshaped with one of the so-called adjusters on the market?

2—What causes the skin around the eyes to look dark and crepey? Would eyestrain be responsible?

A—It might. Have the nose examined, so that definite advice and treatment can be given. I doubt that such treatment would prove of any benefit.

2—This may be due to constipation, lack of sleep, a run down system, and, if the eyes are weak, this fact may be contributing to the general condition. Keep the system clear, and be sure to have lots of fresh air and exercise.

Copernicus, Universe Maker.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

Einstein has said, in a famous passage, that the great artist, painter, sculptor, scientist, natural philosopher makes the universe. Each makes a particular universe—not, surely, the real universe, but one which expresses his own nature and represents his creative view of the universe.

Bernard Shaw recently said that there had been eight makers of universes in the entire history of science. Of these, Copernicus is conspicuous for having, as it were, shifted the entire center of gravity of the universe. He didn't make over the universe, he merely transferred his post of observation from the earth to the sun.

The great contribution made to astronomical science was to divine the logic in the universal situation. From the time of Ptolemy astronomers had been using circles to describe and construct the orbits of the planets. Copernicus did not discard these useful paraphernalia. He was unable to dispense with epicycles, although he used them much more sparingly than Ptolemy had done.

He did not discover that the planets revolved in ellipses instead of circles. He clearly analyzed the faults of his predecessors in astronomy and showed the defects in their systems. The school of astronomers which employed homocentric spheres were able to explain only some of the movements, but were unable to set up any exact mechanical scheme which would cover all the phenomena. On the other hand, the school which clung to epicycles and eccentrics were able to devise a scheme which corresponded with the results of their observations as recorded in the tables; but their theories were not reasonable, since they did not fit into any rational conception of physical law.

To employ the arresting words of Copernicus: "They have not been able to deduce from their suppositions the thing that matters the most—namely, the form of the world and the symmetry of its parts."

It was with them as if one were to take from different places hands, feet, head and other parts of the body, which, although very beautiful, were not drawn in their proper relations, and without making them in any way correspond, should construct a monster instead of a human being.

According to the theory of relativity, the earth may revolve on its axis inside the frame of the "fixed" stars; or the earth may be conceived as "fixed," for the nonce, and the entire framework of the stars revolve around it. A similar alternative confronted Copernicus; and instead of accepting both horns of the dilemma, as Einstein did, Copernicus chose the simpler conception.

No doubt Copernicus was familiar with the surmises of the early Greeks, the Pythagoreans and Aristarchus—that "the sun, sitting on the royal throne, governs the family of stars." Dissatisfied with the prevailing theories, he reverted to this early theory, to which he ascribed the initial suggestion for his work.

He put the theory to the test; tried it out, to see if it would work, would fit the recorded observations, and save the phenomena. "I found," he says, "that when the motions of the other planets are referred to, the circulations of the earth are computed for the evolution of each star; not only do all the phenomena necessary follow therefrom, but the order and magnitude of the stars and all their orbs and the heaven itself are so connected that in no part can anything be transposed without confusion to the rest and to the whole universe."—Copyright, 1930, International Feature Service, Inc.

CRACK SHOT

Marion Woman Is Expert Marksman With Rifle.

Mrs. Gerry Moore of 480 Park Boulevard received the plaudits of an Urbana audience recently when she appeared in her opening performance in a sharp-shooting act billed as Clinton & Clinton.

She was paired with George McDargh of Urbana, nationally-known rifle shot, and does trick and fancy shooting. She missed only one shot at the performance, according to McDargh.

McDargh declared that Mrs. Moore has developed into an excellent shot despite the fact that she has been training for the act for only five weeks.

Auditor Urges Purchase of 1931 Dog License

Owners of dogs in Marion county must procure their 1931 licenses before Jan. 20 if they wish to avoid the $1 penalty, County Auditor Earl E. Thomas said today.

Only 137 tags have been sold to date. A total of 3,894 was sold last year.

Tags cost $1 for male, and spayed female dogs, $3 for female and $10 for kennels.

CIRCLE PARTY HELD

Wyandot Baptist Group Hold Christmas Meeting.

WYANDOT, Dec. 19—A Christmas party was held at the Baptist church Thursday night when the members of the Mission circle held their December meeting. After a short business session each member told a Christmas story and the annual exchange was held.

A Christmas program will be given at the Baptist church Sunday morning during the Sunday school hour, consisting of recitations and songs by the younger members of the school. The Methodists will have a similar program at the close of the lesson study.
